

In my ethics form I note that 'I will also establish moments over the course of the project where [students] can offer evaluative feedback to me anonymously through Google forms, in order to ensure that they are not feeling pressured by their participation and to ensure that I can implement changes according to these suggestions.' The below page includes a screenshot of this Google Form. This was not part of the data gathering, and was purely for participants to share any concerns about the project anonymously.

Land Trust Residency project evaluation

Your contributions will be anonymous and very helpful for planning next term
